

Children's Therapy Specialists

About Us

Since 1966, the Capitol Region Education Council (CREC), working with and for its member districts, has developed a wide array of cost-effective and high-quality programs and services to meet the educational needs of children and adults in the Capitol Region.

Children's Therapy Specialists, a program of CREC's River Street School, provides therapeutic services for children experiencing Sensory Integration Dysfunction or similar challenges.

Children's Therapy Specialists, the brainchild of a forward thinking occupational therapy practitioner, began in 1995. The aim was to provide therapeutic services to children and families seeking a traditional medical model as a complement to the educational model received in the school setting. Through the years, Children's Therapy Specialists has grown in their service offerings to families, schools, and communities.

Clinical Coordinator

Rosemarie Saccomandi is the Clinical Coordinator of Children's Therapy Specialists and graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. As an occupational therapist, her specialty is in pediatrics with a focus on Birth to three, school-system, and clinical services. Additionally, she is certified in administration and interpretation of the Sensory Praxis Integration Tests (SIPT), a member of Brain Gym International, and a Level one instructor of Yoga for Kids. She works with clients, consults with families and schools, presents at workshops and conferences, and actively participates in many community organizations. Rose's goal is to help educators and parents appreciate how sensory processing is an integral part of student's academic achievement and daily life participation.
