

Institute of Teaching and Learning

Assessment of Program Practices Tool (APT)

When:

November 18, 2014
9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Where:

CREC Coltsville
34 Sequassen Street
Hartford, CT 06106

Registration:

Register online at www.crec.org/tls

On the day of a CREC professional development event, please call 860-509-3700 after 6:30 a.m. for cancellation or delay information.

The Assessment of Program Practices Tool (APT), developed by the National Institute on Out-of-School Time (NIOST), is designed for afterschool programs working on continuous quality improvement.

The APT tool is ideal for 21st Century Community Learning Centers by providing a way for after-school programs to focus on assessing specific, observable practices. It also contains a self-assessment questionnaire to examine aspects of program quality that happen behind the scenes.

Participants in the 21st CCLC practitioners training will:

- Explore principles that guide program improvement
- Learn to use the APT through video practice
- Practice using the APT for program improvement
- Learn how to use APT results to improve your after-school program
- Discuss ways to provide feedback to frontline staff

For additional information, contact Glorimar Claudio in CREC's Institute of Teaching and Learning at gclaudio@crec.org or 860-524-4009.