NOVEMBER 2023 NEWS & NOTES

PARTNER SPOTLIGHT: BLUE EARTH COMPOST

"I have learned this year at Polaris that composting is important because it is better for the environment and because it reduces the amount of landfills all around the world." UL

DID YOU KNOW? Food is the #1 material sent to incinerators and landfills in America. We throw out 40% of our food every year along with all the water, hard work, and natural resources used to grow it!

In partnering with Blue Earth, our students are learning how composting can positively impact the environment, while providing a valuable service to a local business in our community.

"Composting has been good for us at Polaris because we are exploring new things to help not waste food. The people at Blue Earth are friendly and it's a good experience for me." IR
